Road

From the M42: Junction 7 (Northbound) or Junction 8 (Southbound) for the M6 North.

From the M6 North: Junction 6 and take the A38 through Birmingham - over a flyover and through three tunnels. Once you have passed through a major junction with McDonalds on the right, turn right at the next set of traffic lights into Priory Road (B4217). The hospital is 100 yards on the left.

From the M5 North/West: Junction 3 and head for Birmingham. Follow the Hagley Road (A456) to Edgbaston, Five Ways. Take the third exit off the island (Islington Row, A4540). Go to the second set of lights (avoiding underpass) and turn right onto the A38 (McDonalds is on the right). Turn right at the next set of traffic lights into Priory Road (B4217). The hospital is 100 yards on the left.

From the M5 South/South: Junction 4 and take the A38 towards Birmingham for 8 miles. Shortly after the University, turn left into Priory Road (B4217). The hospital is 100 yards on the left.

From the East: Head for the City Centre, then take the ring road (A4540) onto the Belgrave Middleway section. Go past the mosque, (avoiding underpass) and go straight on at the island. Turn left at the traffic lights (McDonalds opposite) onto the A38. Turn right at the next set of traffic lights into Priory Road (B4217). The hospital is 100 yards on the left.
